Outgoing Mayor's Thank You

Over the last twelve months I have had the privilege of being Mayor of Stamford, which has meant visiting a broad selection of venues for receptions, openings, ribbon cutting, speeches, functions and events. I would like to record my thanks to all those who invited Valerie the Mayoress and myself to join those organisations, companies, nursing homes, RAF Wittering, New College Stamford, many of the town's schools, fêtes, theatre, the fair and many others, on their special days, which I know are always very important and take so much effort and time by many to be successful.

I would also like to thank those who were able to support my Mayor's Charity functions, and of course the Mayoress's Ascot Ladies tea party, which were all successful in raising funds, greatly helped by the Town Hall staff who always work hard to make sure things run smoothly.

It was a unique, one off year, made so very enjoyable by the hospitality and care taken to ensure we were always made welcome. Credit goes to all of you for not only making our time memorable but giving so much pleasure to all those involved and taking part.

Thank you Stamford - what a lovely place to live.

With our best wishes, Tony and Valerie Story

Stamford Brass Double Champions

2018 has started well for Stamford Brass. In January they attended the Butlins and Mineworkers open Brass festival. 16 bands from all over the country played, Stamford were drawn to play 6th. We all felt we had played well but had to wait until the evening Presentation ceremony to find out what the 2 judges thought. 6..5..4..3..we were not featuring 2 still nothing, then 4th section champions band 6 Stamford Brass..... After this an evening of celebrations ensued!

Roll forward 8 weeks and it is off to the Midlands Area Championship. After weeks of work preparing another piece of music (chosen by the National organising committee) we made our way to Bedworth. Could we do a double? Drawn 7 out of a huge field of 24 bands (the largest section in the U.K!) another long wait until results time. As it was Mothering Sunday some of the band came home to be with family some stayed. Again 4..3..2.. Faces were tense... Champions are band 7 Stamford Brass. Although we celebrated a little most was saved for the next rehearsal.

Next up for us is our Spring concert 21st April 7.30 Arts Centre with guest Soloist Dudley Bright, Principal Trombone, London Symphony Orchestra.

We will be out at various events during the year and hope you will come and support YOUR band.

Our prize for winning the Area title?

A trophy, a small monetary prize ..... and the invitation to represent the Midlands at the National Finals in Cheltenham later in the year, where we will be proud to wear the town crest on our uniform!

The Stamford Mid-Lent Fair Model Show

The Stamford Mid-Lent Fair Model Show took place on Saturday 17th March 2018. The Congregational Hall in Broad Street, was filled with exhibitors who had travelled from far and wide to take part in this annual event. In differing scales and materials the fairground model displays were available to view by the public, with free entry.

The Town Mayor and Mayoress, Tony and Valerie Story, attended and were introduced to the exhibitors who gave an insight into their hard work and endeavours. Organisers Andy Hill, Keith Hansell and Terry Baker wish to thank the town council who, without their continuing support this event, would not be possible. Despite it being one of the coldest fair Saturday's anyone could remember, it was well supported by locals and visitors alike and proved another successful year.

RAF Freedom Parade

Service personnel from RAF Wittering paraded through Stamford on Saturday 12th May 2018 to exercise their Freedom of the historic town.

The Freedom of Stamford was first granted to RAF Wittering on 1 July 1961, giving the station the prerogative to march through the streets of the town with bayonets fixed, colours flying and bands playing.

Around 60 service personnel marched with bayonets fixed and accompanied by the band of the RAF College, Cranwell.

Crowds lining the streets watched as they arrived at Browne's Hospital War Memorial, where a salute took place before the Mayor inspected the parade.

Initially a medieval practice, the Freedom of a City or Town is an honour given by a municipality bestowed upon a valued member or group in the community.

In the case of military units, it is a symbolic mark of trust, representing the good relations with a town or city.

How do you fancy earning up to an extra £1,000 a year?

With parking an ongoing problem in Stamford, we are letting homeowners and businesses know how they can make extra income for doing NOTHING.

Just by advertising your spare driveway, garage or spare commercial property around Stamford, it can be a nice earner for you and it's so easy to do.

Just Park are a reputable brand that has helped to boost the sharing economy in the UK. They advertise your space via their app – available on iOS or Android devices and they take a small commission should you have anyone rent the space.

By encouraging homeowners and businesses to join Just Park, it will make you up to an extra £1,000 per year, per space whilst also freeing up congestion.

Opening of Mallory Lane Gallery on Tuesday 13th March

On Tuesday, 13th March, The Mayor, Councillor Tony Story, opened the Mallory Lane Gallery on the outside wall of Harrison and Dunn. Those present included some of the Dunn family, representatives of both the Skells Trust and the Stamford Civic Society and also, from SKDC, Stamford resident and Leader of the Council, Mathew Lee, Ian Yates Assistant Director of Environment and from the Stamford Town Council, Patricia Stuart-Mogg, Town Clerk.

This project began about a year ago when David Dunn, Managing Director of Harrison and Dunn, decided that the 7 panels on the outside wall of Stamford's much loved and very popular hardware store could feature something interesting rather than being a blank wall defaced by graffiti.

The Gallery is a display of photos of 1930s Stamford taken by local architect Henry Traylen, whose glass slides have been digitised by Dave Baxter and are now kept in the Town Hall. They show some of Stamford's fine buildings, most of which are still standing, but some of which sadly are not. They give a real sense of why Stamford became the first Conservation area in the UK in 1967.

The costs of the project were mostly born by Harrison and Dunn, but the Skells Trust and the Stamford Civic Society also made welcome contributions.

The Mayor, who was himself a professional photographer, praised the project and all those who had helped bring it about, saying it's a fine example of what local people can do to make the town more interesting and attractive.

Visit to RAF Wittering

The Station Commander RAF Wittering, Group Captain Keeling, invited Stamford Town Councillors and friends for a second visit to the base on Tuesday 1st May. The visit began at 10am and included a lunch in the Officers' Mess. Proceeds from the day were shared between the Mayor's Charities and The Harrier Heritage Fund.

Mayor's Civic Dinner

The Mayor of Stamford, Councillor Tony Story held his Civic Dinner in Stamford Town Hall on Friday 27th April 2018.

Guest speakers included Janet Meenaghan, Principal & Chief Executive of New College Stamford; Miranda Rock, House Director, Burghley House Preservation Trust; Group Captain Tony Keeling, Station Commander, RAF Wittering and Stamford and Grantham Member of Parliament Nick Boles. Guests also enjoyed poems from Stamford's own Poet Laureate Emma Cuddeford plus musical entertainment during the evening by Elizabethan minstrel Dante Ferrara.

The evening raised over £900 towards the Mayor's charities.

Stamford Town Council Planning Committee

The Stamford Town Council Planning Committee meets once a month on Tuesdays at 7pm in the Town Hall. Members of the public are encouraged to attend, and speak for or against planning proposals before the meeting officially begins. Planning applications may be viewed online on the South Kesteven District Council website or for those without computer access, at the SKDC office in Maiden Lane. The chairman of the committee, Councillor Breda Griffin, tries to visit all the proposed sites and reports back to the committee. These visits are especially important in the Conservation Area in order to maintain its integrity.

<http://www.southkesteven.gov.uk/index.aspx?articleid=8170>,

New Stamford Arts Centre Poet Laureate For Town 2018/19

Stamford Arts Centre is proud to announce the winner of the 2018/19 Stamford Arts Centre Poet Laureate is Chris Martin! We asked him a few questions to find out more about him...

Congratulations for winning this year's Poet Laureate Competition! What does this accolade mean to you?

It means a great deal. It's partly a validation of the work over the last couple of years in developing my writing and performance, and of how the local poetry environment has helped with that. But it's also a tremendous encouragement to put myself forward more as an advocate for poetry in the local area, rather than just an (admittedly loud) participant. That's a platform which I think can be used to great effect, and I hope I manage to do that.

How do you feel about winning such a prestigious event?

Delighted. The standard on the night was incredibly high, and the fact we had people travelling in from a range of locations shows the growing public awareness of Stamford as a place where poetry thrives. The fact the judges had to introduce a 'runner up' recognition this year shows us how close it was.

What do you hope to do as Poet Laureate? Do you have any Poet Laureate-type dreams to fulfil?

Stamford has created a superb home for poetry, with a natural progression for artists from the Stanza writing group, to open mic in the cellar bar, to featured sets at Poetry Swaps, to supporting touring artists and eventually developing their own shows. Poetry has a home here. But I'm interested in seeing those artists leave that home more and share their work and enthusiasm with the rest of the town. Events like the readings in Walkers Book shop and the 'Drunk Poetry' at the Jolly Brewer show us that the people of Stamford actually quite like poetry when they get a chance to hear it, and so I'd like to build on the footprint this year's Verse festival is creating and continue to see poetry emerge in new and unexpected places.

Thanks Chris, we look forward to working with you to help raise the profile of poetry in and around Stamford and to help produce a town of poets!

Verse 2018 a Great Success for the Town

Stamford Arts Centre's fourth Festival of Poetry and Spoken Word, Verse 2018 was a great success for the town with poets and poems sprouting-up everywhere. Stamford Library, Walkers Bookshop, Stamford Arts Centre's Cellar Bar and The Wine Bar Stamford all provided venues for people to enjoy poetry with friends and family, while meeting new and interesting people from further afield.

Karen Burrows, Stamford Arts Centre's Event Administrator and Verse 2018 organiser said, "The Festival was a huge success. We've had lots of great feedback and we can't wait to get started on Verse 2020! I would like to personally thank everyone who worked so hard to make it happen and for the audiences for being so engaged with the acts. Our Junior Poetry Competition was also a huge success-we received hundreds of entries from local children on the theme What Makes Me Happy. Look out for the winners being published in a book soon!"

Chris Hardy, who appeared as part of band Little Machine, performed with Roger McGough on the Saturday of the festival said, "We had a highly successful concert at Stamford's Verse Festival. The audience were one of the best – highly appreciative and responsive from the start. Roger really enjoyed performing for them, having tried several new poems that were well received."

We would also like to thank all the people who helped make our Fourth Festival of Poetry and Spoken Word, Verse 2018 a great success. There were plenty of sell-out shows and the town buzzed to the sound of poets, poetry, haikus and rhyming couplets everywhere. We are so proud of all the poets who supported the main acts, especially the young poets who took to the stage for the first time. Finally, the festival couldn't have been such a success without the support and funding from South Kesteven District Council.

Graham Burley, Stamford Arts Centre Manager, said, "Verse 2018 was the biggest and best poetry festival yet-we've put Stamford on the map once again having brought such big names as Roger McGough and Lemn Sissay to perform! We're all looking forward to the next festival in two years, but, until then, we've even more poetry taking place in the Arts Centre so everyone should take a look at our website or Live Events brochure to see what exciting events are happening next."

Stamford In Bloom

On 1st May we planted 70 lavender plants under the wall at Bath Row and we are weeding round the trees at the east end.

The passages from the Town down to Bath Row have been cleared by volunteers and are now being maintained by the street cleaners, with SKDC very kindly collecting our rubbish.

SKDC have also taken the benches from the Sensory Garden for restoration - they will be returned shortly once they have been stripped, repaired and treated. I bumped into Matt Lee and Andy Norman who had already reported the problem, it was sorted with the help of Ian Yates and his team.

Sodexo security have delivered the wooden containers made by the Peterborough Prison workshop team.

The Inner Wheel has taken responsibility for the largest container, which will be placed at the St Martin's entrance to the Town.

A set of 3 containers has been placed at the corner of North Street and Scotgate and the area has been cleared of weeds - the barbers are delighted and will water them.

The tulips have performed magnificently in the High Street raised bed and nearby premises.

Castle Lane has suffered from local building works and unwanted strimming (guilty party unknown), but definitely not the fault of the SKDC contractors. The timing of the strimming was all wrong - the flowers were cut off the first year cowslips and also off the bulbs the children planted. A great pity.

The 'bus Station is being kept clean and tidy and there are plans for more planting.

The War Memorial is under the eye of the British Legion and the Town Clerk, with SiB being granted access.

Containers will be fixed in High Street once Erin has been notified of the judging date.

Various competitions - decorated doors, entrances and chairs along with business window displays - have been advertised in the press and will coincide with the judging.
